By STANLEY JOHNSON

WARSAW (AP) — Hopes soared today that statements from Washington and Peking had given a new lease on life to the Formosa talks and eased war threats.

The Warsaw talks between U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beant and Chinese Communist envoy Wang Ping-nan continued their third week today. The envoys held their fifth meeting Tuesday.

Among developments which diplomats considered conciliatory was the declaration by Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai Sunday that the Red Chinese "do not give up their efforts to find a solution to the disputes between China and the United States through peaceful negotiations."

That was what the diplomats had left after they had stripped away much anti-American verbiage from Chou's Peking broadcast. Among other statements, he said Communist China would lead the United States to "final and complete disaster if the United States insists on provoking war."

In Washington an announcement on the details of the closed-door talks was postponed beyond the date such an announcement had been expected. This was interpreted as meaning that the highest quarters expected new developments.

Hope Man Is Named by Auto Association

E. P. Young, Jr. WASHINGTON — E. P. Young, Jr., Young Chevrolet Company, Hope, has been appointed a national Area Chairman for this area to represent the National Automobile Dealers Association, according to Frederick J. Bell, Executive Vice President of the national auto dealers group.

His appointment originates in the Washington headquarters of NADA and follows his nomination by the officers and directors of the Arkansas Automobile Dealers Association. As Area Chairman, his responsibilities are for the promotion and welfare of the national dealers group and he becomes spokesman for the dealers in this area on the national level.

"Mr. Young is a staunch supporter of both state and national dealers organizations," said Carl F. Welch, president of the Arkansas Auto Dealers. "He is a fine representative of his dealer friends and is greatly interested in the passage of legislation aimed at the protection of the public who buys automobiles."

Farmer Shot, Death Toll Goes to 10

A 52-year-old Jackson County farmer was killed by a shotgun blast early yesterday, raising to 10 the Arkansas violent death toll for the week which ended last midnight.

The toll also included six traffic deaths—four of them over the weekend.

Jackson County Deputy Sheriff Aden Woodruff said Paul Creamens, 19, surrendered to officers at Tuckerman shortly after his father, Herbert Creamens, was fatally shot at their farm home near Tuckerman.

Woodruff said the shooting apparently climaxed a family argument but quoted the youth as saying that "his thumb slipped," causing the shotgun to discharge. Young Creamens also maintained that he did not know the gun was loaded.

Prosecutor Wayne Boyce filed a charge of second degree murder against Creamens, who waived preliminary hearing.

The body of Harold Hames, 32, of Decatur, Ala., who drowned Saturday afternoon, was recovered early yesterday from Madrox Bay, 18 miles south of Clarendon.

Hames was a member of a party of 10 camping near the bay, but witnesses said he was alone in a boat at the time he fell into the water.

NAACP Plans Additional Legal Moves

OMAHA (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People looked to a legal move today to halt private operation of Little Rock, Ark., high schools.

NAACP attorneys came to Omaha for court hearing before two 8th Circuit Court of Appeals judges to ask for an injunction to stop the Little Rock school board from leasing its properties to a private corporation.

Gov. Orval Faubus and the Arkansas state government seek to substitute private, segregated operation for integrated public schools ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The NAACP case was to be held before Judges Joseph W. Woodruff, 85, and Harvey M. Johnson, 63, both of Omaha.

A court official said the judges had indicated the matter was one which technically would have been heard in the judges' chambers. However, "it was scheduled for one of the courtrooms in Omaha's post office-federal court building."

Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the NAACP, said he expects the hearing will be brief. He said he didn't know what would succeed the NAACP plea would meet.

Donald MacGuiness, chief of the general litigation section of the justice department's civil division, arrived from Washington to attend the court session.

There was some question whether a decision, even though it was a quick one, would be announced here. Under normal procedure court mandates come from the clerk of the court of appeals in St. Louis, Mo.

The formal request by the NAACP for a temporary order restraining the Little Rock school board from leasing the four high school buildings there to a private corporation was filed in St. Louis today.

The corporation plans to operate the schools on a racially segregated basis.

In the request, the NAACP said unless such an order is granted pending disposition of an appeal in the case, "the appellants will suffer irreparable injury."

The appeal is from the refusal by District Judge John E. Miller of Arkansas to grant an injunction against leasing of the school buildings to the Little Rock Private School Corp.

Board of Review Chairman Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sam Rorex, Little Rock attorney, today was named chairman of the state Board of Review by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Rorex, who has been serving as chief appeals referee in the Employment Security Division under temporary appointment, made the highest score among the three who took the State Merit System examination for the referee position.

He elected, however, to accept the Board of Review appointment.

John Turner of Russellville, who has been chairman of the Board of Review, was named chief appeals referee to replace Rorex.

School Leasing Illegal High Court Declares; Amendments Barred

Rights Measure, 3 Others Ousted by State Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today rejected the proposed "states rights" amendment to the constitution on grounds that its ballot title and popular name were misleading.

The court took similar action on three other initiatives proposed. It ruled that the only one of five which were attacked that will appear on the November general election ballot is a proposed act to repeal the state's railroad full crew law.

The proposed "states rights" amendment was sponsored by Attorney Jim Johnson, a segregationist leader, who will become a member of the Supreme Court next January. Johnson defeated incumbent Minor, Millwee for another term in the August Democratic primary.

Associate Justice George Rose Smith, who delivered the Supreme Court's unanimous opinion, said the Johnson proposal would "destroy the system of checks and balances that has characterized our government since its birth."

One section of the proposed amendment would have set up a "states rights" commission, somewhat similar to the present advisory Sovereignty Commission but with broader powers.

"It is obvious that under the measure," Smith wrote, "every public officer and employee would be expected to live in daily fear of offending the commission. It is evident that in the exercise of its inquisitorial power the commission might interrogate any citizen about his business affairs, his private life, his political beliefs or any other subject that can be imagined."

Smith agreed with detractors of the measure that it would set the commission above the courts and added:

"Although the measure purports to preserve certain fundamental rights of witnesses called before the commission, these provisions are meaningless in view of the commission's immunity from the action of the judiciary."

He said there was nothing in the identifying sections of the measure to disclose its true nature.

The Johnson proposal was attacked in the Supreme Court by Little Rock attorney once upon nomination for attorney general over Johnson.

The other proposals which Secretary of State C. Hall will be instructed not to include on the general election ballot are the proposed "freedom to hire" amendment, the proposed safety crossing amendment and a proposed amendment to give constitutional status to the full-crew law.

Along with proposed repealer of the full-crew law, all involved legal battles between organized labor and management, especially railroad men.

The railroads sought repeal of the full-crew law which provides for a full crew on each train.

Board Leases Four L.R. Schools to Private Group

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Little Rock School Board executed an historic lease today, turning over the city's four high school buildings for use as private, segregated institutions.

An authoritative source said the new private schools may open Tuesday.

A short time later the U.S. Supreme Court in Washington released an opinion on a previous Little Rock case warning that "evasive schemes" could not stand up to circumvent its integration order.

In Omaha, Neb., a two-judge court heard the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People request that the Little Rock board be restrained from leasing its senior high schools for use as private schools where race mixing would not be permitted.

And in Little Rock, the six remaining Negro pupils who attended troop-guarded Central High during the past stormy school year, said they would await the decision of parents and attorneys as to whether they apply for admittance to the private high schools.

Events swirled about the question whether Arkansas can effect a plan that will thwart the federal attempt to force integration.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, advised that the lease had been signed, commented: "If we can get the schools open in the next two or three days and there are those who wish to challenge the legality of the action, the litigation could be carried out while the students are in school."

"Since leases have been signed, if the schools are then closed it will be the NAACP or the federal government that does it."

With the approval of the state attorney general, the board went ahead with the leasing without waiting for federal court action in Omaha, Neb., where the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People is asking that the leasing deal be temporarily halted.

A two-judge court was scheduled to take up the NAACP request for a temporary restraining order at 10 a.m. (CST).

Apparently on vacation of a federal court session in Omaha, Neb., could prevent the schools from passing into private hands today and opening at segregated institutions later this week.

Members of the School Board and officials of the Little Rock Private School Corp. met with Arkansas Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett in closed session until after midnight.

As negotiations for the transfer continued, the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People moved swiftly to block the action.

"We might be out of business tomorrow," commented Dr. T. J. Roney, president of the private school group, in reference to the NAACP move.

The court session in Omaha will be conducted by two justices of the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals. They will hear the NAACP petition presented by Wiley Bryan of Pine Bluff, Ark., seeking to prevent any transfer of school property without court approval.

There was speculation here that the School Board deliberately delayed consummation of the school building transfer until after the judges rule.

A School Board source who declined to be identified said that if the court ordered the board not to lease the facilities, the order would be followed.

But without such an order, the board showed a readiness to comply with the public mandate of Saturday's referendum in which segregationists polled a near 3-1 majority.

Only one of the board's members appeared safe from a recall election, however.

Mrs. Margaret Jackson, president of the segregationist Central High Mothers League, said she planned to file a recall petition today aimed at four board members.

A fifth, Dr. Dale Alford, is an outspoken segregationist.

Television classes continued for the city's 3,000-odd idled high school students, classless since Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed the schools Sept. 15 under powers granted him by a special session of the Legislature.

The far-flung Little Rock case also was scheduled to crop up again in Washington, D. C., today. The U. S. Supreme Court planned to issue a formal opinion spelling out its Sept. 12 order that the School Board continue its plan of gradual desegregation.

While the battle simmered over converting public schools into private ones, one private school did announce plans to open and meet no opposition.

The Rev. Wade Wright, Episcopalian minister, said classes would begin today for 28 students in the Trinity Episcopal Cathedral's parish hall.

Gov. Folsom Commutes Death Penalty

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Jimmy Wilson's death sentence for a $1.95 robbery was commuted to life imprisonment today by Gov. James B. Folsom.

There was a dramatic clemency hearing last Friday which brought the 35-year-old illiterate Negro handyman face to face with the governor.

The governor read a prepared statement at a news conference today which said: "After careful consideration of the fact and circumstances it is the opinion of the governor that the said Jimmy Wilson is a fit subject for executive clemency."

Wilson must serve 15 years before he is eligible for parole.

Under Alabama law, the governor had no authority to reduce the sentence below life imprisonment.

The Negro, whose fate has attracted worldwide interest and brought thousands of protesting letters and telegrams to the governor, was sentenced to death for robbing an elderly white widow of $1.95 in coins.

Under Alabama law, robbery by force or threat of force, regardless of the amount involved, is punishable by the death penalty.

Wilson had been tried and convicted by a jury and twice had lost appeals to the state's highest court.

Pink Bollworm Reported in Little River

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The year's first discovery of pink boll worms in Arkansas was announced today by federal and state agricultural officials.

The destructive cotton pest was found in gin trash from farms near Foreman, in southwest Little River County.

W. C. Maxwell, assistant state supervisor of the federal Plant Pest Control Division, said the worms in Arkansas apparently spilled over from infested areas in Texas and Oklahoma.

The Foreman discovery was the first in the state since 1956, when some worms were found near Osden.

Maxwell said only 10 or 12 worms were found in the Foreman area but "one is too many."

He said Arkansas inspection stations had intercepted hundreds of worms from transient workers traveling into Arkansas "but it is to the cotton grower himself to protect his crop by making a thorough check of contrast picks."

Dr. Charles Lincoln, entomologist, said it is too late in the season to use insecticides against boll worms, and suggested these control measures:

Quick harvest of affected fields; plowing destruction of stalks; and plowing fields to a grain depth to bury any worms on the surface.

Rules States Can't Resort to Evasive Schemes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court declined today to allow states to resort to "evasive schemes" to continue racial segregation in schools. Thus it dealt a blow to such plans as those calling for leasing public schools to private groups.

The unanimous opinion of the high tribunal was handed down shortly after a plan to lease four closed high schools to private organizations was set afoot in Little Rock, Ark., where Gov. Orval E. Faubus has been opposing immediate racial integration at Central High School.

Today's opinion elaborated on the court's Sept. 12 decision that desegregation must proceed forthwith at Central High. It went further and aimed blows at what it termed schemes to get around its stand that racial segregation in schools is unconstitutional.

"The rights of children to be free of discrimination in admission to schools 'can neither be nullified openly and directly by state legislators or state executive or judicial officers, nor nullified indirectly by them through evasive schemes for segregation whether attempted ingeniously or ingenuously,'" said the opinion read by Chief Justice Warren.

Without naming names, the opinion also declared that no state official "can war against the Constitution without violating his undertaking to support it."

Racial segregation in schools was first outlawed in 1954, and in 1955 the court declared it must be ended with "all deliberate speed."

Today it spelled out, to a certain degree, what it means by deliberate speed. In effect, it sanctioned delay in some cases, provided local authorities develop good-faith plans to put integration into effect as early as possible.

"Of course in many locations," the court said, "obedience to the duty of desegregation would require the immediate general admission of Negro children, otherwise qualified as students for their appropriate classes at particular schools."

"On the other hand, a District Court, after analysis of the relevant facts, which, of course, excludes hostility to racial desegregation, might conclude that justification existed for not requiring the present non-segregated admission."

Man Admits Shooting at Prescott

PRESCOTT, Ark. (AP) — A 20-year-old Kentuckian has admitted the fatal shooting of a Prescott officer, Lt. Alan Templeton of the State Police said today.

Templeton said that Irvin Nicely, 20, was questioned at a Prescott hospital where he is being held under guard. He has been charged with murder in the shooting of officer Ed Verden, 35, whose body was found in the Prescott jail Sept. 21.

Nicely was wounded last week while resisting arrest at Kingsville, Tex. He was returned to Arkansas Saturday by plane.

Templeton declined to give details of Nicely's confession but at the time of the shooting police said Verden apparently had been shot by someone he was trying to lock up.

Nicely is wanted by Kentucky authorities in connection with the slaying of an auto salesman at London.

Bears Serve Notice They Will Be Rough

By MIKE HATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

George (Poppa Bear) Halas, one of professional football's founding fathers and its chief innovator, has made a successful return to the coaching ranks after a two-year absence.

Halas decided to forego coaching in 1956, handing the reins of his Chicago Bears to Paddy Driscoll and contenting himself with his front-office duties as owner.

The Bears won a division title that year but last year they had a dismal season, finishing fifth in the Western Division with a 7-7 record. Poppa Bear quickly decided to come out of his semi-retirement.

Taking an outstanding batch of players like Willie Galimore, an unknown picked off the campus of Little Florida A&M; quarterback Ed Brown; brilliant end Marion Hill; and a sturdy forward wall, Halas had mixed well and apparently has a winner.

Bolting away from the wire as the National Football League season opened Sunday, the Bears topped Green Bay 34-20 to complete the outstanding play which saw them compile a 6-0 exhibition record.

In other games, Frank Gifford scored three times as New York trounced Chicago's Cardinals 37-7. Cleveland overcame Los Angeles 30-27 on Lou Groza's field goal with 25 seconds left. Baltimore upended defending champion Detroit 28-13. Washington beat Philadelphia 24-14, and San Francisco edged Pittsburgh 23-20.

Three Hazen Grid Players Injured

HAZEN, Ark. (AP) — Three members of the Hazen High School football team were injured last night in a fall from a grandstand where they were watching a junior high school game.

School Supt. A. H. McDonnell said Dwight Minton suffered a broken arm and that James Wheatley and Tommy Isbell escaped with lesser injuries.

McDonnell said the three were sitting on a railing at the rear of the grandstand. The railing broke and the three tumbled about 15 feet to the ground.

He said Minton would be out for the remainder of the football season and that Wheatley and Isbell would not be able to play in a game Hazen has scheduled for tonight.

Minton and Wheatley are line-men; Isbell is a back.

Williams and Ashburn Win Batting Titles

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Richie Ashburn clinched his second National League batting title despite a strong challenge by Willie Mays as the teams finished their seasons Sunday.

Ashburn collected three singles in four official trips while his Philadelphia Phillies were edging Pittsburgh in 10 innings 6-4. Manager Billy Rigney gave Mays a hand by batting him in the leadoff position. Needing a perfect five for five to catch the Philadelphia fielder, he managed to get three for five, including his 29th home run. The final averages showed Ashburn .350, Mays .347.

Alex Kellner and Brooks Lawrence of Cincinnati teamed up with a four-hit 4-0 shutout of the pennant-winning Milwaukee Braves. Manager Fred Haney paraded Ed Ruth, Carlton Willey, Ernie Johnson and Juan Pizarro in a World Series lineup. Willey, likely third game pitcher, was the loser.

With Mays showing the way, the Giants drubbed St. Louis 7-2, finishing in third place 12 games behind the Braves. St. Louis, a major disappointment, wound up in a fifth-place tie with Chicago, 20 games back. The Cubs and Los Angeles finished their seasons Saturday while the Coliseum was given over to pro football, Sunday.

Ted Williams, 40, won his sixth American League batting title, beating out teammate Pete Runnels on the final day, 328 to 322. Williams had a double and a home run in four trips while Runnels went hitless as Boston, slugged Washington 6-4. The victory clinched third place for the Red Sox. Cleveland took fourth by a half game on the strength of a 6-2 victory over Detroit. The New York Yankees saw Don Larsen and Tom Sturdivant warm up for the series in a double victory over Baltimore 7-0 and 6-3. Chicago used kid pitchers in an 11-4 romp over Kansas City.

Almost overlooked in the excitement over the batting race was the fact that Dave Philley set a major league record with his eighth straight pinch hit for the Phils.

Rush pitched three scoreless innings. Willey and Johnson each gave up two runs and Pizarro retired the side in order in the ninth.

Solly Hemus New Manager of Cardinals

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Solly Hemus, former player with the St. Louis Cardinals, today was named the new manager of the club.

The contract of the fiery Little Hemus is for one year, the Cardinals announced. He succeeds Fred Hutchinson, fired recently when it became obvious the club would finish as high as the Cardinals bosses had expected.

The announcement confirmed an exclusive Associated Press report of two weeks ago that Hemus, the personal choice of owner August Busch, would be the new manager.

The Cardinals, who wound up the 1958 season in a fifth-place tie with the Chicago Cubs, also named Johnny Keane and Harry Walker as coaches.

Keane has been manager of the Cardinals farm club at Omaha in the International League. Hemus played under Keane's field leadership for several years in the minor leagues.

Walker, who once served briefly as Cardinals manager, was manager of the Cardinals' Houston club in the Texas League during the 1958 season.

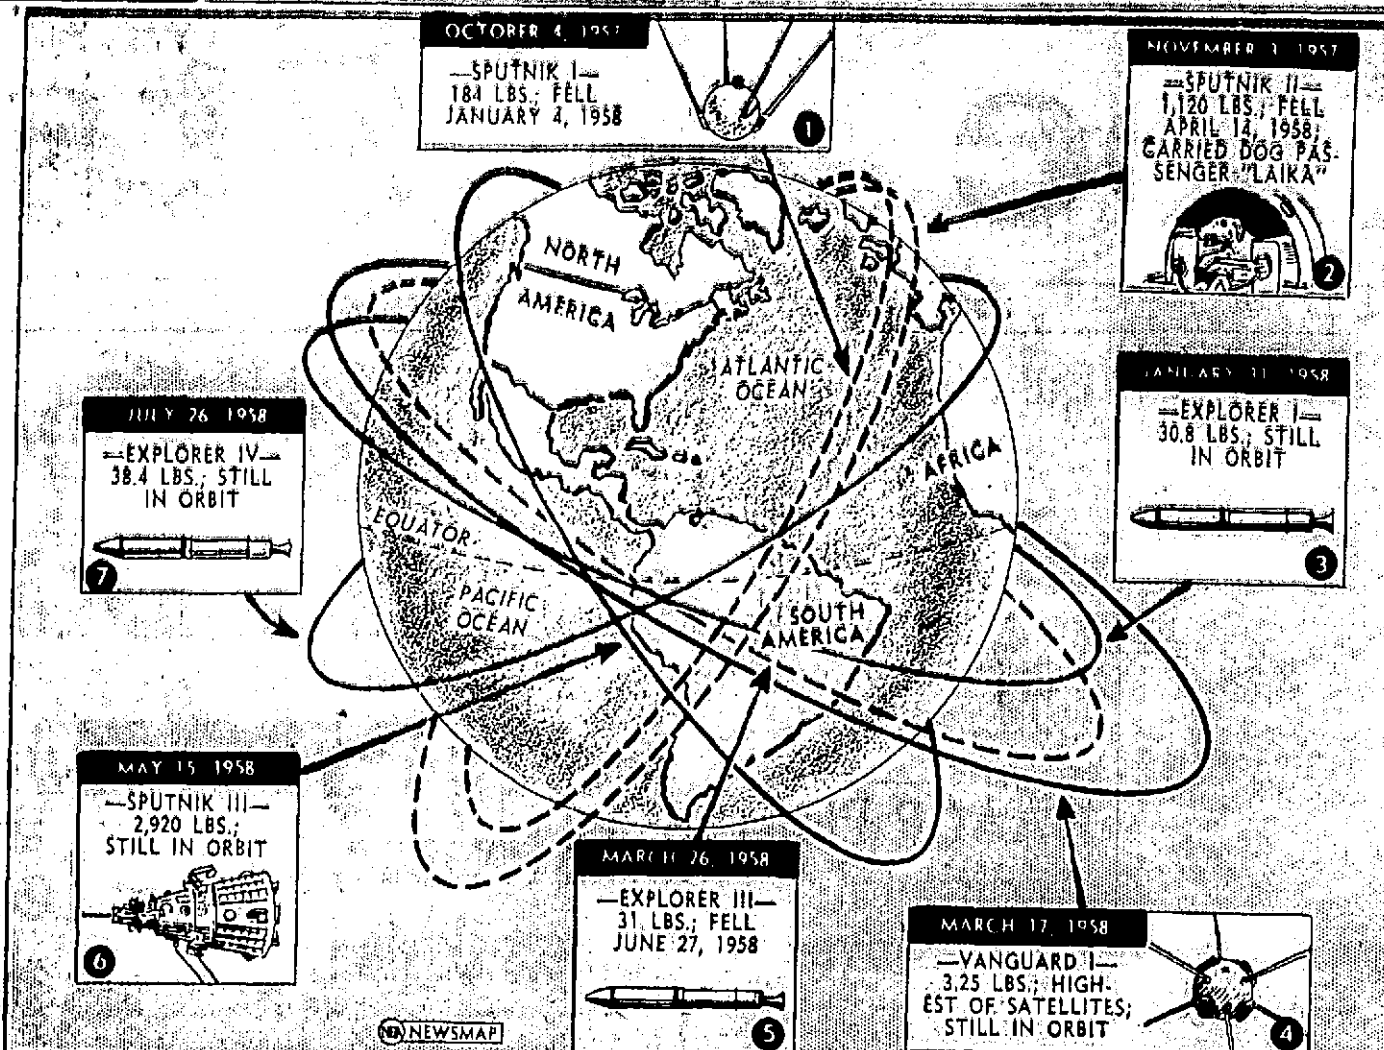

A third coach and possibly a fourth will be named later.

"It is a dream come true," said Hemus, one-time peppy infielder with the Cardinals.

Hemus had played with the Philadelphia Phils for the past two seasons.

France Cuts Off Aid to French Guinea

By JOHN RODERICK

PARIS (AP) — France announced today it is cutting off economic aid to French Guinea, the only overseas territory to vote for independence in Sunday's constitutional election.

A communique said French administrators will be pulled out of the little aluminum-rich country in Africa's west coast within two months.

The notice that the Paris government is ending French credit for economic development was handed to Guinea's Premier Sekou Toure in the capital of Conakry by Jean Ristucco, the French governor.

Without mentioning the word independence, which Premier de Gaulle promised any overseas territory voting against his new constitution, the communique specified that the responsibilities by the French state in Guinea must be profoundly revised.

The latest tabulation of votes in Guinea showed 573,470 against the constitution and 15,681 for it, representing nearly half of the registered voters.

Guinea's move to independence was no surprise. Its Negro Premier, ex-Marxist Sekou Toure, and other leaders had come out strongly against the referendum. Toure, 37, leans far to the left. Though his government has no

A member of Sheriff Orton's staff, P. M. McKay said persons identified in an oral statement that he committed the assault, but declined further details. He was about 15 miles away in that attack a 71-year-old Negro woman said a man entered her home and beat and raped her.

Sheriff Orton said Brown had been taken "at least one county away." He said "there was some bad talk but I think every line is quieted down now."

Woman Takes Negro to a White Church

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A woman who said she wanted to see if members would "practice what they preach" took a Negro woman to an all-white church here yesterday.

Mrs. Roy T. Morrison said she and her companion, whom she declined to identify, were asked to leave the Pulaski Heights Methodist Church, but remained throughout the service.

Mrs. Morrison, mother of four, said she would take more Negroes to the church if the pastor, Dr. J. Kenneth Shamblin, continued to speak in favor of school integration.

Shamblin said the incident "is a good example of the extremes some will go to (in order) to force everyone into two racial positions and destroy any rational approach to the problem we face."

The Rev. Woodrow Smith, assistant pastor, termed it "an effort to embarrass our pastor."

Mrs. Morrison said that action was prompted by Shamblin's sermon last Sunday calling for school integration as the only way to reopen the city's four high schools, closed by Gov. Orval E. Faubus in a move to thwart integration.

"What's good enough for our children is good enough for us," she declared.

None of her children have attended integrated schools.

Mrs. Morrison said an usher asked her and the Negro woman to leave. The pastor did not speak to them, she said.

She added that she was not a member of any segregationist organization "but I have believed in segregation all my life."

"If he (Shamblin) keeps on preaching integration, I'll keep on taking more colored people to church and see if he really means it," Mrs. Morrison said.

ties are planned by the Arkansas Audubon Society for its second fall meeting here Oct. 10-12. H. H. Daniel of Little Rock is president.

MORRISON, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Savings and Loan League has elected Deener Dobbs of Searcy as president for the coming year. Other new officers chosen Saturday include S. H. Hurst of Helena, vice president; Raymond Ledwidge of Hot Springs, secretary; Miss Betty Bailey of Hot Springs, treasurer; and John Jackson of Helena and David McDonald of Stuttgart, directors.

Calendar

Tuesday, September 30th
The Hope District Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist Church will have a dinner meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Gradydon Anthony instead of in the church as previously announced. A pot luck supper will be served.

Wednesday, October 1st
The Gardenia Garden Club will meet Wednesday, October 1st at the home of Mrs. J. Ross Moore at 2:30 p.m. All members are asked to bring bulbs for the Junior Garden Club.

Notice

The Jett B. Graves Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church will have its class supper on Tuesday, Sept. 30 at 7 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Gradydon Anthony instead of in the church as previously announced. A pot luck supper will be served.

Mrs. Tom McLarty
Hostess to Bridge Club
At the meeting of her Bridge Club on Sept. 28, Mrs. Tom McLarty had lovely arrangements of Colosia in silver vases and bachelor buttons in brass containers to decorate her home.

A new club member Mrs. R. E. Cooper, and Mrs. C. C. Lewis won the prizes for high scores. At the conclusion of play the hostess served a salad plate to her guests.

Friday Music Club Meets in Home of Mrs. Hendrix Spraggins
The home of Mrs. Hendrix Spraggins was the scene of the Friday Music Club meeting on September 26. The first meeting of the new club year was presided over by the president, Mrs. Jewell Moore Jr. During the business session, Mrs. Sam Strong was elected to fill the position of 2nd vice-president.

The hymn of the month, "Jerusalem the Golden," was presented by Mrs. J. C. Carlton. The remainder of the meeting was devoted to practice of the selections the group will sing at the District Music Club meeting to be held in Prescott October 31. During the social hour, the hostess served coffee and cake to the 14 members present.

Shover Springs W.M.A. Program
"Neighbors," was the subject of the special program, rendered by the W.M.A. of the Shover Springs Missionary Baptist Church, with Mrs. Lessie Gentry as hostess. Mrs. Gentry brought an inspiring devotional reading from the Matthew Chapter 24. Prayers were voiced by Mrs. Delma Irving and Mrs. Ed Evans. In the program those taking part in the program were the following: Mrs. Roy Greenlee, Mrs. Sam Englund and Mrs. Delma Irving. The topics were, "How to be a neighbor, living with ones neighbors, and who is ones neighbor?" Mrs. Howard Reece was surprised during the social hour with a pink and blue shower, and re-

tion of all qualified Negro children. "In such circumstances, however, the (District) Court should scrutinize the program of the school authorities to make sure that they had developed arrangements toward the earliest practicable completion of desegregation, and had taken appropriate steps to put their program into effective operation."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court declared today the constitutional rights of Negro students "are not to be sacrificed or yielded" to violence and disorder.

The assertion was in the formal opinion setting out the reasoning back of the court's Sept. 12 decision against any delay in integration of Little Rock's Central High School.

With the justices assembled in a special session, Chief Justice Warren read the court's 11-page printed opinion. It said that violence and disorder in the Little Rock situation "followed upon the actions of the governor and the legislature."

"The command of the 14th Amendment is that no 'state' shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws," the opinion said.

It cited an earlier Supreme Court opinion in another case that no agency of the state, or the officers or agents by whom its powers are exerted, shall deny such equal protection.

Anyone who by virtue of public position under a state government denies such equal protection, violates the Constitution, the earlier opinion said. This opinion was cited with approval in today's.

"In short," Warren said for the unanimous tribunal, "the constitutional rights of children not to be discriminated against in school admission on grounds of race or color declared by this court in the Brown case (the 1954 decision outlawing race segregation in the schools) can neither be nullified openly and directly by state legislators or state executive or judicial officers, nor nullified indirectly by them through evasive schemes for segregation whether attempted ingeniously or ingenuously."

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Little Rock School Board executed a lease today for four closed high school buildings, turning them over to a private group for operation as private, segregated schools.

for a minimum number of workers on trains operating in the state and were credited by labor leaders with being behind the "freedom to hire" proposal.

The rail unions countered with the proposal which would have given constitutional status to the full crew law and another which would have required railroads to install certain safety devices at 11 grade crossings.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court was expected to announce today whether five general election ballot proposals will go before the voters on Nov. 4.

The five proposed measures are the States Rights Amendment, a Freedom to Hire Amendment, a Safety Crossing Amendment, a Train Crew Amendment and a proposal to repeal existing full crew laws.

The Freedom to Hire Amendment is proposed by business and industrial interests and the latter three involve railroads and rail labor unions.

Legal action has been filed to keep all the measures off the ballot.

The proposed States Rights Amendment, sponsored by Jim Johnson, Crossell attorney and Democratic nominee for the state Supreme Court, is regarded as an anti-integration measure.

Its provisions would establish a powerful States Rights Commission—immune to the courts—and higher voter requirements. It also would incorporate into the state Constitution most of the school closing laws of Gov. Orval Faubus.

Arguments on two other issues were to be heard by the court. They were an attack on city ordinances designed by Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, and an effort to bar a circuit judge from hearing an election dispute case.

The Bennett ordinances require certain organizations such as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, to

DOROTHY DIX

Love Slides Downhill On Skids of Jealousy

VINTAGE ROLE—Tired of previous roles, where usually it is "all goodness and nothing happens," Rock Hudson is happy in his new picture, "This Land Is Mine." Rock plays the rugged role of an illegitimate son and family rebel in a saga of a despot-owned grape and wine empire in California's lush Napa Valley.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My fiance is a wonderful fellow with only one fault — a jealous streak. He's in the service and writes me every day. I also write every day. But if my letters are delayed, he goes into a jealous tantrum and writes to accuse me of getting out with other men, forgetting him, etc. Of course, when the mail finally catches up with him, he's very contrite and begs me to forgive his outbursts. He says if I ever break out engaged, he'll kill himself, but breaking it is exactly what I'm considering. For the past few months my love has been going steadily downhill. I don't look forward to his letters, sometimes I don't even want to read them. I'm afraid to marry him, and afraid to break up. What shall I do? I'm 16. — Melinda.

Dear Melinda: When in doubt — break the engagement. You are much too young to be involved in one, anyway. Don't worry about your beau's killing himself, either. That's just a romantic threat. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my letter, "Broken Engagements." It will help you handle this one.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My boy friend is very tickle. Time and again he's gone out with other girls, but I always forgive him and took him back. The latest episode was with a divorcee. I can't ask my family's advice because they would say I should leave him. — Hesitant.

Dear Sister: You wasted a stamp. Your family's advice is exactly what mine is.

Dear Dorothy Dix: The girl I love is only 15, but very sensible and mature. She says she doesn't know if she loves me or not. Why should she have a sense of doubt? We're very congenial. — Mike.

Dear Mike: Your girl friend's "doubt" really confirms her maturity. She fully realizes that she's too young to commit herself and wants time to know her own mind — and yours. Rely on her judgment.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I'm only 12 but most people think I'm old enough to be in high school. Don't you think it would be O.K. for me to wear earrings and use lipstick like my older friends? — Sharon.

Dear Sharon: No, ma'am, I don't. You'll grow into these things in time, but the natural charm of being very young will be lost, never to return. Enjoy it while you can.

Send your problem to Dorothy Dix. Be sure to enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope and address her in care of this newspaper.

'Rifleman' New Western TV Series

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—If the count of the notches on our gun is accurate, we've shot it out in interviews with 23 Western heroes in the last couple of years.

But never have we met a hero who loved and knew more about his gun and his horse than Kevin Joseph Connors, better known as Chuck, a towering, muscular, blond fellow who proudly hails from Brooklyn and made his way to the Western ranges by the unlikely route of big league baseball.

Tonight he launches his TV career as "The Rifleman" on ABC-TV, a weekly saga about a widower with a young son who seeks land in the West.

As a first baseman for the Chicago Cubs and in the Dodgers farm system, Connors discovered with surprise and pleasure a few years back that half the casting directors in Hollywood are baseball fans. Because they knew and liked him they began giving him profitable bit parts in the winter season.

One break led to another and Chuck Connors, the first baseman, gradually became Chuck Connors actor. Then everybody began telling him that he was a natural for westerns.

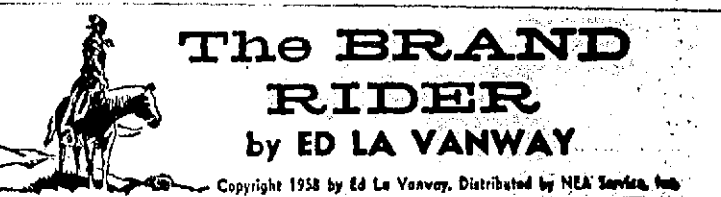

"There were two things wrong with me," Connors said the other day on a trip East. "I had a crew cut and I'd never been on a horse. I did something about it. I let my hair grow and I shopped around for a horse."

"With the help of an old wrangler friend I found a place that couldn't run because she had a bad leg and I picked her up for $50. I rode her every day to get the feel of a horse and after a couple of months I traded her in on a 2-year-old sorrel gelding that could barely run."

"After six months I bought a quarter horse, a buckskin and a beauty. Just shift your weight in the saddle and he'd run in circles. I became a pretty good rider, but

Fifty-nine pupils (the Amish call them "scholars") crowd into the one-room Huntsburg Private School where they receive education through the eighth grade—and no further. As Jonathan Miller, 36, school board treasurer, says, "We raise our children to work. Other schools are trying to put more men in the (boss) chair and less men on the job." The strict religious sect maintains six schools throughout the county.

Cole said grinning. "I heard what you fellows said. You're planning on throwing a stick of giant powder in here."

"They would sure bust a lot of fruit jars," Lane said.

"Coming out, Tony?" "You know I'm not. Go ahead and throw in your dynamite. Then find out what kind of a life a sheriff killer leads."

Lane drew his six - gun. He reversed it. He tapped the layman on the arm with it. "That's good enough for me," he said. "Take it and go on out."

Cole said "They do mean business. But I think I'll stay here."

Then I got to thinking what do I know about a horse?" "Well, I fenced in a half acre, doing all the work myself, and built a little stable for him and I learned to do everything for him — clean him, worm him, saddle him, pare him — everything but shoe him."

When tapped to be star of "The Rifleman" he took home a Winchester 92 and practiced handling it as diligently as he had practiced horsemanship. He gave up his demonstration in handling and twirling this beautiful and serviceable rifle in his hotel suite, and take our word for it that he's proficient.

Legal Notice

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 4
BE IT RESOLVED, by the House of Representatives of the State of Arkansas, and by the Senate, a majority of all members elected to each House agreeing thereto:

That the following is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of electors voting thereon, at such an election, adopt such amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to-wit:

SECTION 1. Any city of the first or second class, any incorporated town, and any county, may issue, by and with the consent of the majority of the qualified electors of said municipality or county voting on the question at an election held for the purpose, bonds in sums approved by such majority at such election for the purpose of securing and developing industry within or near the said municipality holding the election, or within the county holding the election.

SECTION 2. Such bonds shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed six per centum (6%) per annum and shall be sold only at public sale after twenty (20) days advertisement in a newspaper having a bona fide circulation in the municipality or county issuing such bonds; provided, however, that the said municipality or county may, by resolution, suspend the provisions of this section for a period of not more than six months.

SECTION 3. To provide for the payment of such bonds, the municipality or county may levy a special tax, not to exceed one mill (1/1000) of the value of the property, in addition to the regular tax, and may, from time to time, suspend the collection of such tax until such time as the municipality or county may, by resolution, provide for the payment of its bonds; and provided further, however, that in no event shall the rate of such special tax exceed one mill (1/1000) of the value of the property in any city or town or county.

SECTION 4. Such bonds shall be serial, maturing annually after three years from date of issue, and shall be paid as they mature, and no such bonds shall be issued for a period longer than thirty (30) years.

SECTION 5. The governing body of the municipality or the County Court of the county shall exercise jurisdiction over the sale or exchange of any such bonds voted by the electors at an election held for that purpose and shall expend economically the funds so provided.

SECTION 6. The election on the issuance of such bonds shall be held at such time as the governing body of the municipality may designate by ordinance or as the County Judge of the county may designate by ordinance, and the election shall be held on the date of election so that it shall not occur earlier than thirty (30) days after the passage of the ordinance or the granting of said order.

The said election shall be held and conducted in the manner now or hereafter provided for municipal elections when the election is held by the municipality, and in the manner now or hereafter provided for county elections when the election is held by the County Court of the county.

Notice of the election shall be given by the County Court of the county or by the County Judge of the county by advertisement weekly for at least four consecutive weeks, the first advertisement to be published ten (10) days prior to the date of the said election. Only qualified electors of the said municipality or county shall be eligible to vote at the said election. Provided, however, that when an election is held by the county, the said election shall be held in accordance with the provisions of this amendment and the County Court of the county may, by resolution, suspend the provisions of this section for a period of not more than six months.

SECTION 7. An election of the County Court of the county shall be held at such time as the County Court of the county may designate by ordinance or as the County Judge of the county may designate by ordinance, and the election shall be held on the date of election so that it shall not occur earlier than thirty (30) days after the passage of the ordinance or the granting of said order.

The said election shall be held and conducted in the manner now or hereafter provided for municipal elections when the election is held by the municipality, and in the manner now or hereafter provided for county elections when the election is held by the County Court of the county.

DeGaulle Wins Battle for Constitution

By GEORGE MACARTHUR

PARIS (AP)—Premier de Gaulle has won his light return from the most sweeping referendum in French history today gave him a resounding personal triumph and a strong constitution for a new Fifth Republic.

The Fifth Republic will be proclaimed in the official journal next Sunday. And France will enter into a new, more powerful system of government so dating that many Frenchmen gasped at the conception while they voted their approval by a landslide Sunday.

Approved by the French people, the new constitution was approved by a margin of almost 4-1. Complete official tabulations in France showed 17,066,928 "yes" votes and 4,024,475 "no" votes. There was a record turnout of 84.9 per cent of France's registered voters. Counting all those who sent to the polls, including some who cast blank ballots, the new constitution was approved by 78.5 per cent.

With one exception—French Guinea in West Africa—the overseas lands of the erstwhile French empire also backed the constitution. To the hill they set them up with France on the world political stage as a "French community," a sort of global confederation, with commonwealth status and even independence waiting in the wings.

Even the "no" vote of independent-minded Guinea made little impression in the general massive outpouring of approval that exceeded even the most optimistic estimates.

The landslide raised the prospect that De Gaulle, the 67-year-old World War II hero restored to leadership in a rightist uprising last May, can almost write his own ticket to cure the sicknesses of this long ailing country. Chief of these is the four-year-old Algerian rebellion.

De Gaulle probably will become

Sorensen himself stepped into view. "Tom, these fellows won't listen to me no more."

"You hypocrite. You're worse than any of them."

"I'm just what I have to be. Tom," Sorensen said slowly. He put his gaze on the Four Arrow foreman. "Got any word to send to anybody? Any property to dispose of, or anything?"

Lane said, "No." His gray eyes glinted in a fashion that made Sorensen recoil, and when he closed the door, he did so gently.

Most of the light in the smoke house now came through the holes where the chain belonged.

Lane said, "What did they hit you for?"

"I tried to grab a gun and use one of the hoemen for a shield."

The hours dragged by. Daylight faded. Sheriff Cole settled down on a sack of salt and dozed off, snoring. Lane settled down for some sleep, himself, then.

He was awakened by a noise at the door, and saw a coffeepot and a pan of bread and meat and sandwiches sitting on the ground. To one side of the door, a rough voice said, "Sheriff Cole, get this grub if you want it."

Cole brought the coffeepot and sandwiches inside.

After they had eaten, Lane expected the smokehouse door to be closed. Sorensen left it open. After a while, hearing wagons clattering up the hill, Lane knew that Sorensen's people were all gathering here to make a holiday of it. The door was open so that the more bold of the grangers could take a peek at the "badman" their leaders had captured.

Lane moved to the door, looking out. A large group of overall clad men and boys congregated near the south corner of Sorensen's house, arguing heatedly.

Lane also saw a sodbuster seated on a bolt of unspilt stovewood with a shotgun pointed at him. Lane recognized the fellow as one of the men he'd tangled with at Twenty Springs.

"Back inside, Lane."

He turned back toward the sheriff.

Cole's features were grim. "I'm probably won't send the outfit to look for us. We wouldn't stand a chance even if we did. Sorensen could tell them he hadn't seen us, and they wouldn't know any different. Our horses are hidden. But Webster would figure we'd trailed the thieves on up the mountain somewhere."

Several gun toting men moseyed back and forth in front of the doorway. Staring in at the prisoners, and finally Sorensen himself came out onto the back porch. He sat down on the steps.

"Tom," the neighbor asked, "would you resign your office?" "Maybe I'm not the best sheriff in this county ever had," Cole added. "But it's because I'm just ignorant and don't know any better."

"If you would resign and keep your mouth shut," Cole said, "I'd scare me out from behind this badge, Sorensen."

"Well, can you wear the badge and keep quiet?" "About what?" "About what happened to that killer there beside you."

Cole snorted. "You've done waited too long. If you fellows had had the guts to do what you're threatening, you would have done it already."

Lane said, "It hasn't been lack of courage. Sheriff. They just haven't been able to get together. And I'd hope they don't."

Newsman Are Unhurt by Red Gunfire

president, with powers that no French chief of state has enjoyed since Emperor Napoleon III was overthrown in 1870.

In the interval, France has deliberately maintained a strong legislature and a weak executive. De Gaulle's dramatic victory was the worst electoral black eye the Communists have suffered in postwar France. The Communists formed the largest bloc campaigning against De Gaulle's constitution. They said it would open the way to dictatorship.

Gaullist leaders hailed the results as a decisive blow at the Reds, who have hamstringed French politics with disruptive tactics and the biggest single voting bloc—148 deputies—in the 566-seat National Assembly.

Approval of the constitution automatically rejects the old Assembly. De Gaulle now has four months of near-dictatorial powers in which he will write a new election law to seat a new Assembly.

Elections probably will come in late November or early December.

Officer Found Guilty of Hitting Negro

KAISERSLAUTERN, Germany

(AP)—A court-martial of seven colonels today found Maj. Leonard V. Bailey guilty of disorderly conduct in striking Negro entertainer Timmie Rogers.

The court substituted the disorderly conduct offense for more serious charges under which Bailey was brought to trial.

The decision was announced after the court had spent nearly two hours deliberating testimony given Thursday and today.

After announcing its decision, the court recessed before fixing a sentence.

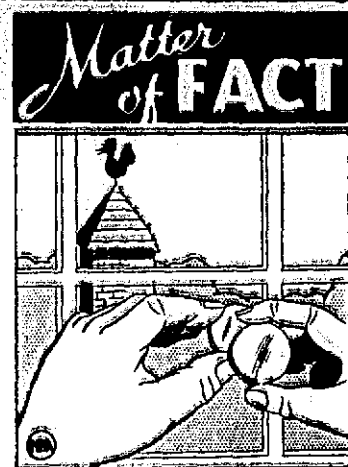

In testimony at today's session

"The only protection it gave us was to keep the sun out of our eyes. We huddled on the steps as shrapnel hit all around us. Some pieces struck only two or three feet from us."

Others caught by the barrage were Bruce Russell, Reuters; Francis Lara, French Press Agency; Raymond Long, CBS; and Lt. Cmdr. Low Ho-Ping, Chinese Navy officer.

The newsmen had been watching and photographing the arrival of the biggest Quenmoys supply mission to date.

A cock that couldn't crow announced the dawn of telescope making. According to the story, about 1608 a Dutch spectaclemaker, Hans Lippershey, was at work in his shop in Middleburg, Holland. By chance he picked up two lenses. Holding them together, he looked through them at the weather vane on a nearby steeple. The cock on the vane appeared as big as life.

Negro Women Held in Theft of $10,000

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two Negro women, one a veteran employee of a Little Rock department store, were arrested last night in connection with the theft of an estimated $10,000 in merchandise from the department store over a period of several years.

Mildred Summerville, 32, an employee of Kempners store, was jailed in connection with mail fraud charges; Evelyn White, 30, on charges of receiving stolen merchandise.

Officers said the arrests climaxed an intensive investigation by a private detective agency, postal inspectors and sheriff's deputies.

Private detectives said the merchandise from the store was resold at half the retail price to a "large clientele." The agency was employed to investigate a "substantial shortage" in the store's inventory.

mess. Bailey was in charge of the club and was pressed by his guests, who were growing restive because of the delay in Rogers' arrival, he testified.

After Rogers had repeatedly used profane words, and had refused to go out on stage, Bailey said he hit the entertainer in the face but never on the body and denied kicking him. It was kicking which the charges alleged caused the fracture of at least one of Rogers' ribs.
